CAPTAIN

David Lankewicz (Hellertown, PA): David returns after participating on the victorious 52nd One Box team in 2012. He has been an engineering and supply chain professional for over 30 years in the fiber optics, lithium ion batteries, and lighting control industries. After 15 years with Saft Batteries, David joined Lutron Electronics in Hellertown, PA in 2018. David is currently the Senior Director of Supply Chain at Lutron. Lutron is the leader in lighting control industry and offers a wide selection of energy-saving dimmers and lighting control solutions. David runs the global organization for purchasing, logistics, warehousing, and distribution.

David was a U.S. Naval Officer for six years after graduating from Auburn University with a bachelors of science in electrical engineering. He holds special honors from the Naval Surface Warfare School and Naval Steam and Gas Turbine Engineering School.

David enjoys every type of bird hunting, sporting clays, fishing, and all outdoor sports. He has participated in hunts from Alaska to Argentina. David is active in Ducks Unlimited. When not hunting or fishing, he also enjoys reading and photography. David is accompanied this One Box trip by his wife, Jennifer Helton. The two have a son and daughter.

TEAM MEMBERS

Gregory Baker (Atlanta, GA): Greg works for Aurora Management Partners where third party consultants working on debtor side due diligence of companies in various stages of financial distress, bankruptcy, and restructuring. With a background in audit and financial models, Greg works primarily in a financial planning and analysis role for the purpose of determining a profitable course of business for clients. Greg earned his B.S. in Accountancy from Clemson University and a masters from Wake Forest University.

His hunting interests include upland game and waterfowl. Greg also enjoys downhill skiing. He is active with PAWS Atlanta, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, as well as D.A.R.E. Greg and his wife have a springer spaniel and a boykin spaniel that occasionally participate in hunts.

Steve Jones (Cincinnati, OH): Steve is currently the Senior Vice President and Loan Work-out Senior Account Manager for KeyBank, National Association. He has 30 years of commercial banking experience including credit analysis, loan review, commercial lending, and problem loan resolution. He has been in KeyBank's Asset Recovery Group (commercial loan workout) since 2002, primarily handling Institutional, Middle Market, and Oil and Gas credits throughout the U.S. Prior to joining KeyBank in 2002, he spent 14 years at US Bank (formerly Firststar Bank, formerly Star Bank). In addition to his account management activities, Steve has managed teams of Relationships Managers at KeyBank and at US Bank. Although KeyBank is headquartered in Cleveland, Steve works from KeyBank's Cincinnati offices.

Steve attended Miami University in Oxford, OH, for his B.S. in Business Administration then earned his MBA from the University of Cincinnati.

Steve is mainly interested in hunting upland birds and waterfowl. He's had the opportunity to hunt these birds in several states. Over the past five years, he has traveled to Nebraska with members of his team to hunt ducks and pheasants in Broken Bow and Albion. During those visits, he's enjoyed meeting new people, including Jeff and Lisa Johnson. In addition to hunting, he enjoys all sports both as a spectator and as a participant.

Steve is an avid shooter and gun owner. He is an active member of Dunks Unlimited and the NRA. In Cincinnati, Steve serves on the Hamilton County Development Disabilities Services Board, a government social services agency established by state law that supports more than 7,800 people with intellectual and development disabilities in the greater Cincinnati area by providing case management, monitoring service quality, and funding services provided by our community partners.

A life-long resident of Cincinnati, Steve resides with wife, Jennifer, and twin sons, Zach and Drew. His faith and family take priority over everything else. He and his wife look forward to transitioning to a life with adult children.

Austin Newel (Conway, SC): Austin enjoys hunting of any kind, but wing shooting is his favorite. With the help of his family, he manages a small quail and duck club in his hometown. The business has been passed down from his grandfather who started taking his friends hunting over 40 years ago. When it's not duck or quail season, Austin enjoys saltwater fishing on the South Carolina coast, training hunting dogs, and helping his granddad farm.

Austin has his Doctorate of Pharmacy from the University of South Carolina. He is a staff pharmacist at Wal-Mart pharmacy near Conway, SC. He has five years pharmacy experience, and loves taking care of patients that he's known since childhood. Austin attends the Marion Presbyterian Church. He enjoys spending time with his wife, family, and friends at the beach.

Jeff O'Dell (New Tripoli, PA): Jeff has a Bachelor of Science in Aerospace Engineering from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University and an MBA from Syracuse University. He served his country well for eight years in the U.S. Army as an active duty infantry officer. Jeff was deployed to Iraq, Afghanistan, Mongolia, and twice to Korea. Jeff earned several Army certificates including: Infantry Officer Basic Course; Engineer Officer Career Course; Ranger; Airborne; Air Assault; Pathfinder; Northern Warfare; Sniper; Combatives Instructor; and Field Force Engineering.

Jeff is currently a manufacturing plant quality manager for Lutron Electronic in Chihuahua, Mexico. He is responsible for the overall quality of products through fabrication and delivery to customers. He leads and manages improvement projects in the factory to eliminate waste, improve quality, and enhance the overall value for the customer and the company. Previously to working for Lutron, Jeff was a commodity manger for plastics, tooling, and other custom mechanical systems for five years.

Jeff enjoys waterfowl, turkey, and upland hunting. This is his first competitive hunt, but he has hunted across the U.S. and even in Iraq. Jeff and his wife, Jessica, breed, raise, and train Chesapeake Bay Retrievers. He loves the thrill of sitting in a layout blind for Canadian Geese and having a dog he raised next to him as birds circle into the spread. Jeff is an active with the Boys Scouts of America. He and his wife are expecting their first child in December.
